Recorded live from a concert at Carnegie Hall on 27th January, 1935
Pristine Audio XR remastering by Andrew Rose, June-July 2007

Total duration: 57:47 This restoration is ©2007 Pristine Audio.

Please note: The source material for this recording was badly damaged. Though this restoration aims to preserve as well as is currently possible the sound quality of this historic document, listeners may notice some unevenness at times, coupled with some mild degree of hiss. There are also some short sections of music missing from the recording.

This is the only known record of Toscanini conducting the music of Anton Bruckner.
